Honor Award Recipients Celebrated at the Autumn Social

Our Autumn Social provided the perfect setting to honor the outstanding achievements of our members and colleagues.

Award of Honor – William T. Brown, AIA
A past president of both AIA Northern Virginia and AIA Virginia, Bill’s 30+ year career embodies what it means to be an architect with a capital ‘A.’ He tirelessly promotes our profession and advances the professional practice of architecture through his work at Moseley Architects and, before that, as President / CEO of Beery Rio Architecture & Interiors. At AIA Virginia, Bill vigorously worked to strengthen our organization’s government advocacy efforts, greatly raising the profile of AIA Virginia

Canstruction at Dulles an Awesome Success

20,006 pounds of food and $40,590.55 in donations to the Arlington Food Assistance Center!

Organized by AIA Northern Virginia and the Arlington Food Assistance Center (AFAC), a non-profit organization providing supplemental groceries to families in need, our 15th annual Canstruction® competition was a celebration of local architects’ commitment to support their community and have fun while doing so.

Most importantly, hundreds of families will benefit from the thousands of cans of food donated to AFAC by our Canstruction teams in time for the holidays! Our winning entries will go on to compete in the International Canstruction competition.

2019 Chapter Elections

Our Autumn Social also functions as our chapter’s annual meeting. This year we approved our new five-year Strategic Plan, published in our September/October newsletter, www.ianova.org/pdf/newsletters/Sep_Oct_2018.pdf and held elections for our chapter board.

Congratulations and thank you to our Chapter Board and our AIA Virginia Directors for 2019.

President’s Letter

by Theresa P del Ninno, AIA
AIA Northern Virginia President

As my year as president comes to a close, I am crafting my final letter and Debbie is sequestered in her office almost single handedly putting together the rest of our publication.

I am hoping you are finding yourselves at the end of the year a little stronger, as I am. For most of us in our offices, our architectural billings (and salaries) were up this year. Our chapter has certainly strengthened in membership and participation, a few of the highlights (and there were many) include:

• Our Architecture Week stretched from a handful of events to a jammed packed schedule, with all of our committees participating.
  www.aianova.org/architectureweek.php
• Our participation in our annual meeting, reinvented and christened ‘Autumn Social,’ doubled in attendance and was a great success. The Autumn Social celebrated our newly licensed members and other significant and lifetime contributions to our chapter.
• Our Young Architects Committee has successfully transitioned to supporting the ARE 5.0. Dedication to our chapter was exemplified by Anna Barbour, AIA & Braden Field, AIA, our ARE leaders who sat for the ARE 5.0 exam to understand how best to approach the new prep classes.
• Our WIA Committee provided a year full of diverse events (and continuing education credits!) Of note were the lectures in the sixth annual Woman’s Lecture Series. Sarah Watling, AIA crafted engaging panels to discuss city planning and strategies to buttress existing neighborhoods. The message was very clear about importance of knitting back the social fabric that gets disrupted with construction.

All of the events, like many of the projects in our offices, are the result of collaboration and long-term planning.

As we close the year on a good note, we recognize the many environmental and social challenges in front of us. In our area, this year has been marked by significant environmental and social events. Many of us opened our computers to the multiple weather delay claims as this year is on track for the wettest on record. We are tracking to receive over 60 inches of rain as December closes out, 20 inches more than our average.

We were reminded of the 50 year anniversary of the 1968 Martin Luther King assassination, the subsequent riots and the irony of having the Unite the Right white supremacy rally in Lafayette Square.

AIA Resilience and Adaptation Online Series

Do you want to integrate resilience into the design services your firm offers?

The Resilience and Adaptation series is your answer. This exclusive multi-course series covers mitigation, resilience and adaptation, technical design application, and design process application.

Take all courses in the series to learn best practices for mitigating risk for hazards, shocks, and stresses and adapting to changing conditions.

The AIA Resilience and Adaptation Online Series is developed by the AIA as part of the resilience and adaptation initiative.

https://www.aia.org/pages/2906-aias-resilience-initiative

Currently, there are seven courses available, but additional courses will be release shortly.

- Resilience + Adaptation – An Introduction
- Hazards, Vulnerability, and Risk in the Built Environment
- Responding to Climate Change
- Codes and Rating Systems for Resilience
- New Construction: Hazard Mitigation Strategies
- Existing Buildings: Hazard Mitigation Retrofits

Register for the courses on AIAU.

CRAN – Integrating Acoustics into Architecture

January 23, 12:00-1:30p

This program promotes acoustically mindful design and educates on the effects sound has on occupant health and welfare. Attendees will become familiar with these effects, how to manipulate interior acoustics, and the importance of accounting for acoustics early in the project.

Learning Objectives:
- Become aware of the health and psychological effects of interior acoustics.
- Understand the principles of sound: Reverberation, Reflection, Absorption and NRC Ratings.
- Be knowledgeable of current requirements, codes, mandates and regulations regarding interior acoustics.
- Recognize the importance of accounting for acoustics early in the design phase.

1 LU|HSW. Provider: BASWA acoustic North America. At the Miele Tysons Corner Experience Center, Fairfax Retail Square, 8065 Leesburg Pike, Suite 110, Vienna, VA 22182.

with lawmakers. Always a thoughtful and astute leader, he takes time to invest in and mentor colleagues around him. As a “submerging professional,” his phase, he continually encourages and

Theresa del Ninno, AIA – Distinguished Leadership

Theresa demonstrates the epitome of thoughtful and insightful leadership as our chapter President. She has served our chapter in numerous capacities, most notably as a director for two years and as a chapter leader for four. Her predecessor, Karen Conkey, AIA, noted how she enjoyed their time together on the board, especially their annual ‘pass the baton’ lunches to ease into the transition of each new leadership role. Whether at Big Sibs events, Grassroots, or the National Convention, Theresa well represented the values and spirit of our chapter nationally. We truly appreciate her dedication and leadership and look forward to her continued service to our chapter.

Lorin B. Boswell – Service to the Chapter

In recognition of a decade of service and an expanding role at the Chapter House, we thank Lorin for being a steadfast ambassador for the chapter as the front line on the phone and the familiar face at every event. Lorin welcomes all our new members, tracks everyone’s continuing education credits, and has taken on numerous responsibilities to help our committees, most notably ARE Prep, Canstruction, Continuing Education and Design Awards. We thank Lorin for always stepping up to the plate!

Anna M. Barbour, AIA and Braden L. Field, AIA - Outstanding Achievement

Anna and Braden have been the backbone of the chapter’s popular, award-winning, ARE Prep program for years, Anna since 2008 and Braden since 2016. Both successful practitioners at well-established firms, each has found the time to apply their experience to enrich our ARE program. While managing the transition from ARE 4.0 to ARE 5.0, they even took the 5.0 exam to help them develop effective new classes. Over the last three years they have shared our ARE classes with two other Virginia chapters, inspiring and leading a new generation of architects both across the chapter and the Commonwealth. Thank you both!

William E. Conkey, AIA – Outstanding Achievement

Bill served on Alexandria’s Parker-Gray District Board of Architectural Review for ten years as a knowledgeable representative, providing thoughtful technical and design recommendations to citizens, BAR members and city staff. According to Al Cox, FAIA, one of Bill’s greatest achievements in this role was his appointment to represent the Parker-Gray BAR on the Ad Hoc Design Guidelines Work Group. Bill’s thoughtful and passionate defense of the benefits of historic preservation and the value of community-based design review of compatible, contemporary infill was instrumental in retaining this 18th century district in Old Town. The resulting Residential Reference Guide has substantially streamlined the design review process. Well done, Bill!

Robyne Hamilton, Associate AIA – Service to the Chapter

Robyne has been an active member of the Design Awards Committee since 2009. She has contributed to the uniquely innovative audio-visual program by organizing sponsorships and providing critical guidance for our premier event. Robyne is being recognized for her years of service on the design awards committee and her efforts to elevate the role of architects with a Service to the Chapter Award. Thank you Robyne!
Joseph B. McCoy, AIA – Service to the Chapter

Joe McCoy has been an uncomplaining, revenue-raising member of the Design Awards Committee for six years, a board member since 2015, currently serving as chapter treasurer and a great host at chapter events where he demonstrates a willingness to reach out to new members on the chapter’s behalf. For the past two years, Joe has single-handedly expanded the programs and outreach of AIA Northern Virginia’s Architecture Week. We can’t wait to see what new programs he develops in 2019! Thank you for all you do, Joe!

Mark Sentner, Mosaic Express – AIA Northern Virginia Chapter Award

Ten years ago we first reached out to Mark Sentner and Mosaic Express for help with our Design Award printing needs. Through subsequent Design Award programs and winners’ brochures, Annual Meeting programs and many sponsor boards, Mark has never failed us; even delivering material to Lorin’s front porch to be sure we have everything in time. And for that, we thank him and recognize his generous support of our chapter.

Newly Licensed Members

We invited all our newly licensed members to attend as our guests so we could celebrate their achievement. We also gave them Corbu glasses to wear for the evening so everyone had a chance to congratulate them. We were able to provide complementary tickets to all our newly licensed through the generous sponsorship of Kulinski Group Architects.

Valerie Long, Associate AIA – ARE Scholarship Recipient

This scholarship recognizes an Associate AIA member who has made significant contributions to the profession at an early stage in their career and helps to offset the cost of testing.

Congratulations to all!

Thank you to Matthew Harwood for designing the Honor Awards and to Matt Shuba, AIA for all the photography.

MTFA Architecture & Manoj Dalaya, AIA Honored by AIA Virginia

AIA Virginia Honor awards were recently presented to Manoj Dalaya, AIA, Secretary of our chapter’s Board of Directors, and to MTFA Architecture, a very active local firm in Arlington. Congratulations!

MTFA Architecture Selected for T. David Fitz-Gibbon Virginia Architecture Firm Award

For 25 years, Arlington-based MTFA has had a strong impact on the architectural profession by using design excellence to thoughtfully shape people’s lives throughout Virginia and beyond. Firm members are model citizen architects, having led the AIA with two presidents of AIA Northern Virginia, a president of AIA Virginia, a board member of the Branch Museum of Architecture and Design and numerous AIA committee founders and chairs. Firm members are mentors to students inside and outside the office, working with programs like the annual Inter-School Design Competition for architecture students. MTFA’s history, design awards and publications testify to the enormous potential for using the AIA, their clients and the community to promote connections that reinforce tomorrow’s leadership and inspire creation of a better built environment.

The T. David Fitz-Gibbon Virginia Architecture Firm Award, as the highest honor bestowed by AIA Virginia to a Virginia-based architecture firm, recognizes a firm that has consistently produced distinguished architecture for at least ten years.

KGD Principal Manoj Dalaya, AIA Honored with the Award for Distinguished Achievement

Manoj is known for consistently delivering successful solutions to complex building security issues within a cloak of award-winning architectural design. He is a strong advocate for “healthy building.” Manoj’s work features well-designed green building that is resource-efficient, life enhancing and healthy, no matter the type of facility. He combined ancient Vedic principles with high technology to create an uplifting workplace with the DC area’s first LEED® Platinum office building at 2000 Tower Oaks Boulevard. Manoj also offers his time and skills to AIA Northern Virginia and many business communities in the metro area.

The Award for Distinguished Achievement signals distinguished achievement by an architect in any one of the following categories: design, practice, education, service as “citizen architect”, and service to the profession; and thus may serve as an accolade for the work of an entire career or recognize the current accomplishments of a younger leader. Up to three awards may be bestowed each year.

Additional information on the award is available on the AIA Virginia website. www.aiava.org/dalaya-honored-for-distinguished-achievement/

Other winners include:

William C. Noland Medal – Jack Davis, FAIA, Virginia Tech Reynolds Medals Endowed Professor of Architecture
Architecture Medal for Virginia Service – Reggie Jones, Attorney at Richmond-based Williams Mullen
Emerging Professional Award – Kevin Jones, AIA Virginia Tech Assistant Professor
Emerging Professional Award – Erin Webb, AIA, 3north Director
AIA Virginia Honors – Delegate Betsy Carr (D-Richmond/Chesterfield) and Style Weekly

AIA Northern Virginia’s 2019 Emerging Leaders in Architecture

by Braden L. Field, AIA
AIA Northern Virginia Director

Each year, AIA Virginia selects a small class of deserving individuals to participate in a year-long, intensive program designed to develop the future leaders of the profession. The Emerging Leaders in Architecture (ELA) program provides advanced knowledge and skills in the areas of leadership and practice that extend beyond those learned in school. The program consists of a series of full-day seminars and work sessions located throughout the state, structured concurrently with a real world class project that will challenge the participants to engage the broader potential of architecture to address local issues. The 2019 program is based in Northern Virginia and will culminate with a presentation at Architecture Exchange East in Richmond.

ELA selects one applicant from each of the five local Virginia components and each of the four Virginia architecture schools. In addition, it selects seven at-large participants from open applications. This year, AIA Northern Virginia received a number of strong submissions for nomination requests from the chapter.

We are excited to announce that we selected Alexander Zondlo, Associate AIA, of Little as the AIA Northern Virginia nominee to the 2019 class of ELA. In addition to demonstrating leadership at his firm, Alex is an active participant in the chapter’s Young Architects Forum (YAF) and 360 Mentoring programs. He also helped lead his firm’s participation in Construction in recent years, and is looking to expand his leadership opportunities within the profession.

We are also happy to recognize Sydney Huibregtse, Associate AIA, of MTFA Architecture as an at-large selection for next year’s class. Sydney is involved with the chapter on the Design Awards Committee, leading the graphics efforts for this year’s event. She is also active in the chapter’s Women in Architecture Committee and is working to become even more involved in the chapter.

Please join us in congratulating Alex and Sydney! We look forward to supporting and following their development as future leaders in the profession, and wish them all the best as members of next year’s Emerging Leaders in Architecture.

On Friday, November 9, The AIA Center for Civic Leadership held their third installment of the Leadership Institute in Washington, DC. In partnership with the AIA|DC Emerging Architect Committee, the DC area held an all-day event with local presentations and workshops prior to the start of the National Plenary Broadcast at 1:00pm. I was honored to be the local DC keynote speaker and was asked to speak about “The Missing Middle” – highlighting the successes and challenges of the middle generation. Being in this group is always taxing as middles are expected to lead, mentor and do work all at the same time. Mastering this era career, I shared with the group some questions I recently started to ask myself.

Who Are You? Creating a personal SWOT analysis (Strengths, Weaknesses, Opportunities, Threats) forced me to take a holistic look at my life, what made me happy, my balance or even lack thereof. The biggest lesson about understanding who you are is finding out who you must become in order to be successful. For many of us in the room that meant learning how to delegate. More importantly, realizing that delegating is not just assigning task, but letting go and allowing the next generation to do it their way.

What do you stand for? I stand for Transparency, in support of Emerging Professionals and Diversity. Understanding this allows me to align and prioritize who I am and what I stand for with the needs of my colleagues, the community and the industry.

Over the course of the presentation, I shared with the group the effects of the 2008 recession on the industry. We also discussed the 2018 NCARB by the Numbers Report regarding architecture graduates, women and minorities. While the number of women graduates is increasing, overall enrollment is down. I wanted them to know that middles in DC and around the country were working to make a difference and no charge was too small as we are all responsible for the success of the profession.

I introduced them to the contributions of Melissa Daniel, Assoc. AIA here in DC, founder of the WIA Lecture Series. Tiffany Brown, Assoc. AIA in Detroit with 400 Forward. Oswaldo Ortega, AIA, President at I-NOMA, in Chicago with the Project Pipeline Summer Camp. I included myself, highlighting a STEM event I created and hosted for Girl Scouts in Northern Virginia.

My final question was also my charge to everyone in the room and now to all of you reading this article.

Who are you paving the way for? We are all responsible for ensuring the future of our profession is bright through, mentorship, diversity and transparency. How will you leave the profession better than you found it?

2019 AIA Women’s Leadership Summit

The biannual AIA Women’s Leadership Summit will take place in Minneapolis on September 12-14, 2019.

The summit spans a diverse spread of career stages and seeks to support all women in the profession. WLS began as a grassroots effort to bring together women principals of architecture firms, women in leadership positions, and women architects moving into leadership roles across the country for an intense two-day summit focusing on leadership and design. Today, the summit spans a diverse spread of career stages and seeks to support all women in the profession.

Year End Charitable Contribution

If you are considering an end-of-year personal charitable contribution, the AIA Northern Virginia Community Outreach Fund might be a good option. This year our chapter began a 501(c) (3) fund for charitable contributions to help support scholarships and public outreach programs. The fund is managed by the Virginia Foundation for Architecture under a fiscal agreement with our chapter and allows individuals to make tax-deductible contributions towards specific chapter programs. Donations can be directed for Scholarships, Public Outreach or left undesignated and will be applied where needs are the greatest.

Contributions to the fund are by check, made out to “The Virginia Foundation for Architecture, Inc.” In the memo line, write “AIA Northern Virginia Community Outreach Fund.” You can also indicate a particular use on this line, for example, “scholarships,” “public outreach,” or general fund.

Selection Process Announced for Regional Representative to AIA Strategic Council

Every three years, the Region of The Virginias elects a Representative to the AIA Strategic Council, the AIA's “think tank.” As part of the AIA's organizational repositioning implemented in 2014, AIA governance was divided into a “bi-cameral” type of structure, a much smaller, more nimble Board of Directors and a newly-formed Strategic Council. Strategic Councilors focus entirely on big-picture, futurist-type thinking about the future of architects and architecture... and the Institute’s opportunities to prepare for that future proactively.

In 2019, The Virginias will elect a Representative to Strategic Council for the three-year term beginning in 2020 and ending in 2022. Nominations are open and can be submitted at any time prior to February 28, 2019, the closing date for nominations. www.aiava.org/wp-content/uploads/2018/12/Region-of-Virginias-Regional-Rep-Selection-Process.pdf

National AIA Small Firm Exchange -Applications Open for Regional Representative

Are you an AIA Member in a small firm? Are you interested in the issues confronting architects practicing in a small firm environment? Would you like to help the National Small Firm Exchange address these issues? Then, you may be just the person we’re looking for.

The AIA Region of The Virginias (Virginia and West Virginia) has one representative to represent the Region on the Small Firm Exchange (SFx). Applications are now being accepted for the SFx 2019-2020 term as Virginias Regional Representative to the SFx. Applications must be submitted by email by December 17. www.aiava.org/wp-content/uploads/2018/12/Region-of-Virginias-SFx-Applications-Open.pdf

Regional Associate Director Applications Open

Are you an Associate AIA Member? Are you interested in the issues confronting architecture school graduates on a path to licensure? Would you like to help the National Associates Committee address these issues? Then, you may be just the person we’re looking for.

Every two years, the AIA Region of The Virginias (Virginia and West Virginia) selects an Associate AIA member to represent the Region on the National Associates Committee (NAC). This is a tremendous opportunity to take on a larger leadership role within the AIA. This rewarding experience will allow you to be actively engaged in shaping the future of the profession and to grow your network with the NAC, YAF, and the AIA both regionally and nationally. Applications are due by Monday, December 17. www.aiava.org/wp-content/uploads/2018/12/Region-of-Virginias-RAD-Nominations-Open.pdf

Three Scholarships Awarded to Local Students

by Maury S. Saunders, AIA
Schools Connections Committee

The Schools Connections Committee (SCC) conducted their annual Scholarship Design Competition in October and is pleased to announce this year’s award recipients. Applicants were asked to submit a cell phone case design that promotes architecture and raises interest in architectural design and architectural school. The case should act as an advertisement for architecture as a whole. The competition was open to students attending a Northern Virginia school of architecture, or students who reside in Northern Virginia, but attend an architecture school elsewhere.

There were 15 entries submitted to this year’s competition, and the SCC Awards Jury is proud to announce that Gino-Angelo Bretana, a fourth year senior at Catholic University, was awarded $1000 as the First Place Winner.

The second place scholarship recipient, given $700, was Juan Pablo Urey Fernandez, a first year Masters of Architecture student at the Washington Alexandria Architecture Center (WAAC). The third place recipient was Ezgi Isbilen, a fifth year PhD Architecture and Design Research student at the WAAC, awarded $300. Honorable Mention recognition went to Roberta McCord, a fourth year undergraduate student, also at the WAAC.

The Awards Jury judged the submissions based on four criteria – Craftsmanship, Clarity, Architectural Promotion, and the application as a 3D object. For this year’s First Place recipient, the submission described a solution that “showcases a broad range of architectural styles and accomplishments” Jury comments noted the submission as “comprised of the right ideas… was excellent in its craftsmanship, showed the most architectural clarity…and was the best use of the phone case as a 3D design object.”

The committee thanks all who were able to participate in the program. The expansion beyond the Northern Virginia region to other architectural schools’ participation is noteworthy, and continues to raise the awareness and promotion of our profession.
Show Us Your Work!

We are looking for projects to publish in this newsletter and BLAST. We offer three features to showcase our members’ work:

On the Boards
Featured Projects
Sketches

On the Boards -- Each issue of AIA Northern Virginia News features a project currently “on the boards” being designed by Chapter members. These can include theoretical, conceptual and unbuilt projects or projects currently in the planning or design phase. Submissions should include a project description of 150-250 words and at least four images at print resolution. Other information to include is the project name, location and photographer credit, where needed.

Featured Projects -- Each issue of BLAST features a recently completed project designed by a Chapter member. Submissions should include a project description of 150-250 words and two-four images. Other information to include is the project name, location and photographer credit. You may also include a link if your website has more information on the project.

Sketches -- Sketches is a feature in AIA Northern Virginia News showcasing the artistic talents of our members. We encourage you to share your sketches. Please send high resolution copies of one to five sketches with brief captions and information on how we should credit you, the artist.

We will generally publish work on a first-come, first-served basis. Photos and images may be resized or cropped to fit the formatting and it may be necessary to edit the description. Please let us know if you wish to review any changes before publication. To submit for any of these features, just email all material to aianova@aianova.org

Thanks for sharing!

1856 Old Reston Avenue Master Plan & New Building Design
DBI Architects, Inc.
Reston, Virginia

The project, situated on a 5.19-acre property, proposes the replacement of an existing three-story building with two three-story campus-style Class A commercial office buildings (approximately 139,206 SF) and a partially underground, 469-space parking garage (approximately 158,835 SF).

An example of new minimalist design, the project provides a modern, innovative, and sustainable architectural statement along Old Reston Avenue while respectfully complementing, and contrasting with, the Classical Revival / Federal style of the Bowman House. The low horizontal massing and scale of the new structures provide an anchoring backdrop to this historic structure.

Building A will have 15,000-GSF floorplates (total of 45,000 GSF); building B will have 31,402-GSF floorplates (total of 94,206 GSF). The buildings will be constructed as a single phase and as a cold dark shell. An approximately 13,000-SF rooftop terrace sits between the two buildings, atop the parking structure, and incorporates low-water-demand landscaping, hardscape elements, and outdoor seating, and 50% permeable surfaces. The terrace is located adjacent to the building’s conference facilities and dining area (to be fitted out in a future phase in Building B).

The buildings will be designed to the standards of LEED® Silver.
AIA Releases 13 New and Updated Contract Documents

AIA recently released 13 new and updated contract documents. One of the most notable changes among this set, includes the new Contractor-Subcontractor Master Agreement and its accompanying work order. The new agreement allows a contractor and subcontractor to agree to a predefined set of terms and conditions that will apply to multiple scopes of work.

Another significant update is the Joint Venture Agreement for Professional Services, which was revamped to address the significant legal implications associated with joint venture business relationships. Other notable changes include the:

- Master Agreements, which now align with the 2017 core AIA document updates.
- Instructions to Bidders, which now includes designation of Bidding Documents in electronic form or paper copy.
- Architect-Consultant Agreement for Special Services now includes the copyrights, licenses and payment provisions of the prime agreement. Mediation was added as a condition precedent to binding dispute resolution.

The following is a complete list of new and updated forms and agreements being released:

A121TM–2018, Standard Form of Master Agreement Between Owner and Contractor where Work is Provided Under Multiple Work Orders

A221TM–2018, Work Order for Use with Master Agreement Between Owner and Contractor

A421TM–2018, Standard Form of Master Agreement Between Contractor and Subcontractor Where Work is Provided Under Multiple Work Orders

A422TM–2018, Work Order for Use with Master Agreement Between Contractor and Subcontractor

A701TM–2018, Instructions to Bidders

B121TM–2018, Standard Form of Master Agreement Between Owner and Architect for Services Provided Under Multiple Service Orders

B221TM–2018, Service Order for Use with Master Agreement Between Owner and Architect

C101TM–2018, Joint Venture Agreement for Professional Services

C402TM–2018, Standard Form of Agreement Between Architect and Consultant for Special Services

C421TM–2018, Standard Form of Master Agreement Between Architect and Consultant for Services Provided Under Multiple Service Orders

C422TM–2018, Service Order for Use with Master Agreement Between Architect and Consultant

Houston 2020 Visions Exhibition RFV (Request for Visions) – Houston 2020 Visions is a yearlong invitational, open until August 25, 2019, seeking creative and innovative ideas for how to rebuild a better city, one that protects the health and well-being of people, grows sustainably and supports a strong economy. The program seeks expansive, creative visions of resiliency, ranging from infrastructure projects to policy recommendations, from flood warning systems to resilient housing design. Visions could consist of projects that are currently in progress or recently completed, or purely speculative proposals to encourage creative thinking. Individuals, teams, organizations and companies from around the world are welcome to submit visions. The call for visions is seeking responses in scaled categories that examine resiliency from the micro-individual to the macro-global. The resulting responses will be juried and curated into an exhibit that will be mounted at Architecture Center Houston in spring 2020. Reader & Swartz Architects P.C. has lots to celebrate. The Family Cabin, by author and architect Dale Mulfinger, FAIA, is a book that examines the archetype of the cabin. This book includes their Star Tannery Cabin project, an old, unheated hunting cabin transformed into a modern getaway. This project was also featured in the magazine The Best of Fine Homebuilding - Small Homes Cabins and Cottages. The firm has also been recognized with several awards:

In collaboration with landscape architecture firm of O’Shea Wilson Siteworks, the Museum of the Shenandoah Valley Cultural Park won an Award of Merit in the Planning and Analysis category of the Virginia ASLA (American Society of Landscape Architects) 2017 Professional and Student Awards Program.

Their Red Gate project received a Bronze Award in the Historical Renovation category in the 2017 Professional Remodeler Design Awards program.

Reader & Swartz’s Bell’s Project is now complete and was recognized with an Award of Merit from Preservation of Historic Winchester.

AIA Northern Virginia member, Dale Ellickson, FAIA has a blog of short stories that architects tell architects. Check out his blog at www.architects-tales.com

Architecture, Incorporated was recognized at the 2018 Best of NAIOP Northern Virginia Awards in two categories: Hospitality/Retail and Tenant Space. Mellow Mushroom Chantilly was honored with an Award of Excellence in Hospitality/Retail; and the Compass Rose Headquarters received the Award of Excellence in Interiors, Tenant Space 0 to 10,000 sf.

Architecture, Inc.’s project, 700 Constitution, earned a Bronze Award at Building Design + Construction Magazine’s annual Reconstruction Awards, a testament to the value of neighborhood preservation.

In addition, the firm has been recognized by Interior Design Magazine as one of the 2018 Interior Design Hospitality Giants. Their firm ranked #64 out of 75 firms.

Virginia State Police (VSP) has announced the selection of Dewberry to perform architecture and engineering services for the design of its new Division Six Headquarters facility in Salem, Virginia. The new facility will include ample space for the division’s 100 staff members, with adequate room for growth, and will include administrative, multipurpose, and vehicle storage buildings, and a communications tower. The headquarters will house the Bureau of Criminal Investigation, Bureau of Field Operations, and support services. Dewberry’s services will include programming, data collection and review, user interviews and forecasting, site assessment, architectural space programming, schematic design, design development, construction document preparation, and construction administration. The firm provided designs for the recently completed VSP Driver Training Facility, VSP Shoot House, and for the VSP Demolition Range, which is currently under construction.

HGA-designed Hodson Boathouse Dedicated at Washington College – Washington College in Chesterton, Maryland, dedicated its new state-of-the-art Hodson Boathouse, celebrating a successful multi-year capital campaign that elevates the College’s nationally competitive rowing and sailing programs. Designed by HGA to support the varsity rowing and sailing teams and student recreation, Hodson Boathouse serves as a “Front Porch” for the College’s evolving waterfront campus that includes the existing Truslow Boathouse, the multi-purpose Lelia Hynson Pavilion, and planned future educational amenities along the Chester River. The 9,200-square-foot boathouse includes a multipurpose space with roll-up glass doors opening to the river; a 35-seat team classroom; locker rooms; cardio workout room with rowing machines; an indoor 16-station sweep rowing tank; offices for coaches and waterfront staff; and a 3,675-square-foot wraparound front porch.

FOX Architects is pleased to share that two of their projects were recognized with awards from NAIOP DC|MD: 1000 Maine, a waterfront, trophy-class office building in the new District Wharf development, was awarded Winner, Best Urban Office, Over 150,000 SF and the American Society of Health-System Pharmacists was recognized as a winner, Best Interiors, 25,001-75,000 SF. FOX Architects was also recognized for their comprehensive marketing campaign which creatively announced their new address and invited colleagues for an continues on page 22
open house in the new space. They received recognition for the Best Marketing Program from NAIOP DC|MD, a SMPS Marketing Communications Award for Special Event – Print, and Winner, Best Architecture Website from the annual WebAwards Competition.

Quinn Evans Architects has announced that the firm has acquired BCWH, a 34-person architectural firm based in Richmond. Founded in 1986, BCWH has an extensive portfolio in K-12 schools, higher education facilities, libraries, and other civic projects throughout Virginia and campus planning experience across the mid-Atlantic. The firm was recognized with the 2008 Fitz-Gibbon Virginia Firm of the Year Award from the AIA Virginia. BCWH will remain in its current location on West Broad Street, creating a sixth office for Quinn Evans Architects. Charles D. Piper, AIA, a firm principal who has been with BCWH since 1998, will serve as office director of the Richmond office. BCWH, which will operate under the Quinn Evans Architects name, is highly regarded for its expertise in educational facility and library design, and its professionals regularly present nationally on trends in libraries and learning environments. The firm has completed numerous projects for VCU, including the new Institute for Contemporary Art (with Steven Holl Architects), the Academic Learning Commons, and two campus master plans.

Referral List System on www.aianova.org

In the interest of keeping our referral lists as current as possible, we have moved from downloadable PDFs to a sortable web-based interface. This allows us to make changes much more quickly and has the added benefit of allowing users to link directly to firms’ websites from aianova.org. You can visit the database of firms here: http://aianova.org/referral.php

The firm data and practice area selections were taken from responses to the latest directory survey. If you didn’t fill one out, or would like to update your information, please send an email to: referrals@aianova.org.

Our listings can contain the following fields for each firm: Firm Name, Address, Website, Contact Name, Contact Email, Phone Number, Number of Personnel and up to five practice areas. If you feel your listing is incomplete, just send us an email with your updates, and we will post them as soon as possible.
